Larkin, Erdkamp Lead Spring Semester Staff

Three women have the final say in the Gateway office this semester. Heading the 26 member staff is Joanne Larkin, senior Journalism major. Miss Larkin served on the staff three and one-half years. She has been editor of the society, feature and news pages and was managing editor last semester.

Stepping in as managing editor is Joyce Erdkamp. The new assistant to the editor has been feature editor, assistant society editor and news editor. Former photo editor Mary Ann Conley is news editor. Assisting her on the news post are Bob Peck and Frank Schuchart.

Desk Editors Named

Manning the cameras are Roger Orr and Barbara Hagerman.

Former sports editor Lee Nelson now serves two desks, feature and news.

Freshmen on Staff

Seven freshmen reporters gained positions on the news writing staff. They are Pat Nolan, Bob Kragh, Dean King, Corinne Houser, Larry Means, Geoffrey Berry and Wilbur Anderson. Lorrie Lemen is dean of the copy desk.

The Business Staff remains the same. Bob Benecke is business manager; Bill McVicker, advertising, and Ken Borchert, circulation.

This semester The Gateway staff will concentrate on an eight page issue once a week. The Board of Student Publications approved this change from the four page bi-weekly at its last meeting. The weekly paper will eliminate repetition in news coverage and will allow more details in each story.

'Grain of Sand' Still on Sale

The second issue of "Grain of Sand," is still on sale in the Bookstore. Manager Ben Koenig said that 91 copies have been sold so far, and will be on sale for several weeks.

Alumni Will Have Kick-Off Dinner

A kick-off dinner to get the Alumni Fund Drive under way will be held in the University auditorium on Feb. 14.

Workers will hear talks by Dr. Bail; Dan Koukol, Fund Drive chairman, and other alumni leaders. The personal contact campaign will continue from Feb. 14, through Mar. 2. Assignments and instructions will be given at the dinner. Workers will choose the names of alumni whom they wish to contact. Tom Townsend, Alumni Secretary, stated, "We're hoping for 50 to 100 workers."

After the dinner, workers will sit together in a special section at the OU-Creighton game in the University Fieldhouse.

Since the purpose of this drive is to help the University as well as the Alumni Association, Townsend said this: "Because the Alumni Association wants to support the University by creating scholarship and equipment funds, Omaha University students have good reason to urge alum friends to support the drive."

Inter-Pep Schedules Basketball Migration

"Transportation will be furnished for the Migration trip to Deane," announced Maynard Tatelman, Tuesday.

All who registered for the trip will meet at the University at 5 p. m. Monday, Feb. 9. The fare is $2.25.

"There will be free time before the game at 8 p. m.," he added, "and there will be time for lunch after the game if Migrants desire. The OU fans should be back in Omaha by midnight."

Twenty-nine persons must be registered for the chartered bus ride. If there are not enough going by bus, the Dean of Students office will refund the money of those who did sign up.

This is the first basketball Migration for OU and is replacing the football Migration, canceled last fall.

Debaters Plan Initial Trip To Denver U.

Two teams of the Omaha University debate squad will attend the Denver University Invitational debate tournament on the DU campus Feb. 13 and 14. This will be the initial appearance of the OU squad at the Denver tournament, according to Prof. J. D. Tyson, debate coach.

The debaters took 16 debates at the Midland College Annual Tournament last week-end, in spite of new team pairings and illness.

Bob Sherbondy and Bernice Larsen, both new to debating, took three of their six contests. Illness separated the team of Ted Romberg and Duane Post after the third round of debate on Friday. Don Blauw substituted for Romberg in the Saturday morning rounds.

Marie Jipp and Arlyss Welch won four and lost two of their six debates. This score was repeated by Sharon Erdkamp and Jean Bednar. The fifth Omaha team consisted of Ken Bauer and Ed Bralley. There were 16 colleges participating in the event.

Mar. 6 and 7 the debaters will attend either the St. Thomas Invitational at Minneapolis or the Invitational at the State University of Iowa.

Pep Group to Sponsor Creighton Rally Friday

In preparation for the second Creighton-OU basketball game, Saturday, Feb. 14, the Inter-Pep Squad has planned a pep rally for Friday morning, Feb. 13.

Pep Squad member Maynard Tatelman is in charge of the rally. Classes will be shortened with the regular short-period schedule to be followed.

The University band, Coach Virgil Yelkin and the team captain will appear at the rally.

Students Total 1400 As Classes Begin

Day school registration for second semester has passed the 1,400 mark, with the Registrar's Office expecting "more to come." By Tuesday, total enrollment in regular classes was 1,436 students. Of these 80 were new students and 90 were veterans.

Tomorrow's Game Features AF-ROTC

In conjunction with the OU-South Dakota Wesleyan basketball game, University ROTC officials have designated tomorrow as Air Force Night.

Halftime entertainment will be provided by the Angel's Flight with an exhibition of precision drill. Janet Langhammer is in command of the organization under the over-all direction of Cadet Col. Robert Darrah.

First on the agenda for the evening will be a meeting of the Junior Jets in the Auditorium at 6:30. One hundred Jets will receive their wings presented by members of the Angels Flight.

Maj. John J. Burnett, Assistant Commandant of Cadets, will give a short talk to begin Saturday's activities.

Charles Hoff, University vice-president, will be a panel member at the Air Age Education Clinic being held at the University of Nebraska today and tomorrow concerning methods of air education.

Discussion of the panel will deal with "Military Aviation for Our Schools."

Two students, Syntha Judd, first Flight Leader of the Angels, and Jack Katz, squadron commander of the Arnold Air Society, will speak to the panel about their respective organizations and its emphasis on the student.

Lt. Col. Merlyn McLaughlin, Chief of the Liaison Branch of AF-ROTC, Hqs., USAF, will visit the Omaha University campus today for informal talks with the cadets and officers.

"We expect nearly 100 students from other schools to enroll before the Feb. 13 deadline," said Genevieve Price of the Registrar's Office.

Miss Price said that these late registrants were delayed in enrolling "because of late final examinations at other colleges and universities."

Many of the 90 veterans enrolled "are holdovers from last semester," Miss Price said. New veterans will be counted "when they fill out their monthly reports in the Registrar's Office," she added.

According to latest figures, there are twice as many men as women enrolled this semester. Miss Price said "this has been the case for the past five or six semesters."

The Registrar's Office reported "about 1,000" enrolled in the College of Adult Education up to Wednesday noon.

Associate Dean Donald Emery said regular night registration will continue to 5 p. m. Monday. "After that, a late registration fee of $1 will be assessed," said Dr. Emery. Students may enroll late with the permission of the professor through the first three weeks of classes.

1954 Tomahawk Needs Top Editor

The Tomahawk is looking for a new editor. Robert McGranahan, Director of Public Information, announced that anyone interested in applying for the editorship of the 1954 Tomahawk should turn in their names by next Friday.

All applicants should be upperclassmen. A general plan for the yearbook should also be submitted.

"Anything Goes" Players, Stage Workers Rehearse, Build Setting for Performances

The 24 members of the "Anything Goes" cast are acting and singing through an intensive rehearsal schedule. The musical comedy will be presented Feb. 20 and 21 in the University auditorium.

"I am very pleased with the cast," commented Dr. Edwin Clark, faculty director of the show. "They are coming along fine, and have mastered the script to the point where they do not need to use their books at all." "Anything Goes" set builders have taken over the auditorium for the construction of the seven different sets.

Dr. Clark announced the members of the cast during examination week. As previously announced in the Gateway, Dewey Crouch and Ruth Longville will sing two of the leading roles, Billy Crocker and Reno Sweeney. In the part of Elisha J. Whitney is Jack Frost. Norman Paasch will play Sir Evelyn Oakleigh, English nobleman, and fiancee of Hope Harcourt, played by Jean Madden. Paasch, Crouch and Miss Madden will make up the love triangle in the musical show.

Leonore Marx is cast as Mrs. Harcourt, Hope's mother. Jack Dunlevy will be public enemy No. 13 in disguise, Rev. Dr. Moon. The action of the musical comedy takes place aboard ship, and the part of the Steward is played by Gary Anderson; Purser, Cliff Souther; and Captain, John Mitchell.

Keith Williams will be Bishop Dobson, and Phil Abramson will play Lord Oakleigh. Also aboard the ship are Bonnie LeTour, played by Ann McTaggart and Mrs. Wentworth, Anita Reznicek.

Marian Tyndale will be Mrs. Frick and Nancy Vienot will be a little boy. Playing bartender is Dick Smith. Georgia Redfield and Dorothy Ehlers are Ching and Ling. Reporter is Val Kuffie and Larry Means and Ted Romberg are 1st and 2nd cameramen.

Taking part in the chase are Federal Men, Jim Dubois and Jim Erixon.

The sets include the Weylin Caprice Bar, the Afterdeck, Mr. Whitney's and Dr. Moon's cabins, Sir Evelyn's cabin, the deck, lounge and the brig. The last scene takes place in the conservatory of Sir Evelyn's home in England.

Teaching Keeps Haynes Occupied

By Dick Reimund

What does a retired college president do with all of his spare time? In the case of Rowland Haynes, president emeritus of Omaha University, it was necessary to make an appointment with him in his office to find out.

When asked what his duties were at the University, Mr. Haynes said simply that he taught a night class, alternating between two subjects with each new semester. It amounts to a lot more than that!

When Rowland Haynes retired as president of Omaha University

... President Emeritus

In July of 1948 it left him with a great deal of time. For a while he taught, then he took some courses here at O.U. and then was asked to teach again.

Two Courses

He teaches two courses, "Human Engineering" and "Job Analysis." These courses are designed to give employed adults aid in developing skill in working with others, and to help them set a goal and ascertain their qualifications.

Human Engineering, the course aimed at developing better understanding of problems in personnel organization and management, is taught by studying actual cases. Some are taken from the casebook of the Harvard Business School, and others are posed by the group. Personal interviews are available on a voluntary basis, and about 90 per cent of the class take advantage of the opportunity.

Job Analysis is intended to help the young job-holder to look ahead in business, see where he is going, and plan wisely for the future. Job possibilities, buried talent, and ability estimates are among the topics studied.

Evening Classes

Although his classes are held only in the evenings, President Haynes puts in about 15 hours a week in an attempt to avoid what he termed the repeated use of "dog-eared lecture notes." His classes are designed to improve thinking habits, rather than to impart an arbitrary amount of specific information.

Tests are "open book," but as the tests consist of case analysis problems, the book is of no help.

Grade Sytsem Hits AF-ROTC

Those white envelopes with the "University of Omaha" printed in the upper left-hand corner soon will be filling the mailboxes of OU students.

With caution and hope, students will open them hoping to see a column of straight "A's." But many of the students are liable to be disillusioned.

Before students receive their final grade, the faculty will have gone through a complicated grading system. To try to clarify or further confuse many students, an attempt to analyze the grading situation follows:

Men and women students are first graded to the regular school curve. An A is 93-100; B, 85-92; C, 77-84; D, 70-76, and F, below 70. The scores for male students are then applied to a second scale, which runs as follows: A-plus, 98; A, 96; A-minus, 94; B-plus, 92; B, 90; B-minus, 88; C-plus, 86; C, 84; C-minus, 82; D-plus, 80; D, 78; D-minus, 76; F, 74 and below.

This scale especially applies to ROTC students and was adopted last June by the draft boards in the consideration of deferments for students, and the draft boards have continued to use the scale. It is this second scale which has caused confusion in understanding the grading method. And is it any wonder, after an equally confusing analysis?

The Tomahawk office, with an eye toward presenting "a bigger and better yearbook than ever," has reached a climax in its campaign.

One bright sunny day with the sun rising over the Ak-Sar-Ben bridge, Tomahawk photographer Dan Langevin cautiously mounted the catwalk leading to the top of the roller coaster at Playland Park. With one hand grasping the dilapidated railing and the other hand clutching his camera, he reached the top. Slowly turning, he took aim of the beautiful, foggy, tree-topped Omaha industrial skyline. He snapped the picture and descended the catwalk.

Still beaming and elated over his adventure, he returned to school and rushed to the darkroom to develop his "picture of the year." A few hours later, he emerged with the finished product and proudly handed it to Editor Larry Boersma. Boersma, exercising the cruel hand of authority, calmly rejected it, asserting that there were too many trees, too much smog, and not enough skyline.

So with understanding sympathy, the feature editor promised to print the above picture, snapped directly down from the top of the coaster.

Study Monopolizes Semester Time-Off

The period between examinations seems to always bring a lot of small incidents and excitement to the campus. And last week was no exception. The flu and last-minute cramming seemed to monopolize the spotlight.

The English department, offices on the third floor were a beehive of activity last week. The trouble behind all the unnecessary noise was Dr. Wardle's six-year-old son. It seems that Mrs. Wardle and the rest of the little Wardles were down in bed with the flu and there was nothing left for Dr. Wardle to do but bring the boy to school and let him "help" correct and grade final examinations.

Here's a tip for students who were fortunate to have earned enough money to file income tax and more fortunate to have to file for a government refund check. If you will print the word "refund" on your envelope when you send your form to the Internal Revenue Bureau, it's possible that you will get your money back faster, and people will do anything for a fast buck.

The Dramatics department certainly can't be complaining about the free publicity that they have been receiving lately. The American Railway Express Company has been gracious enough to paste huge "Anything Goes" signs on the sides of many of their delivery trucks.

Alumna Combines Violin, Phys Ed

A '51 graduate of OU whose aim was "to live my life to the fullest—to make myself happy through service to others" is already fulfilling many of her ambitions.

She is Miss Helen Tiahrt, physical education instructor at Mason Grade School, and violinist in the Omaha Symphony Orchestra.

So far this school year, she has coached the Mason flag football team to second place in the South Side District, and is now in the midst of the basketball season. The school's 6-1 record on the football field demonstrates Miss Tiahrt's pigskin knowledge.

Her basketballers' 1-2 record isn't highly impressive, but this isn't the fault of Miss Tiahrt. It seems her male basketballers got so interested in the girls' volleyball team, from a sports standpoint, that practice had to be delayed until the first of this year.

As for her musical ability, Miss Tiahrt has been playing in the symphony since her high school graduation.

It's a wise cannon that knows its own fodder.

A Victory . . .

The long-awaited game is over.

May we say congratulations to our team for a victory over Creighton. Not in score . . . but in teamwork, in trying, and in spirit.

And may we add, Feb. 14 is Valentine's Day, but Creighton will be greeted with every thing but hearts and flowers when the Bluejays meet the Indians on Indian ground.

Again, congratulations.

JE

My Life and Your Life

"What Can We Do" to save our lives! "What Can We Do" to save and protect the lives of our family? "What Can We Do" to save and protect the lives of our friends? "What Can We Do" to save and protect the lives of people we don't even know?

Let us change the wording of that. "What Can I Do" is the challenge.

This small word "I" transfers to each of us the responsibility for injury and death. It knocks out any "passing the buck." Everytime "I" run a stop sign, I endanger your life and mine. Everytime "I" race down Dodge Street at 50 miles per, I could kill you.

There is a safety drive being carried on in Omaha now. You can sign a safety pledge and give suggestions for "What Can We Do" to save a life.

Many Omahans have given their suggestions:

"Limit top speed to 50 miles an hour for drivers under 21." "What about those over 21?"

"A person shouldn't have a car if he uses it for pleasure purposes only." Are people killed only after 5 p. m.?

Accidents are caused when the driver of a car isn't watching. Accidents are also caused when pedestrians don't lookout for coming cars before crossing a street.

Let's take a personal responsibility in this safety drive. My life and your life are sound reasons for safety.

JE

Roving Reporter

With the belief that motorists and pedestrians alike have a real desire to improve driving safety and can contribute ideas and action to bring such improvement, the Omaha World-Herald is sponsoring the "Crusade for Safety."

The newspaper is asking the two and one-half million readers in its circulation territory to join this crusade.

In the coming months, the crusade is going to feature awards or publicity for safety efforts in all age groups, cities, clubs, news media, official bodies, and the motoring family.

National statistics show that persons between the ages of 18-25 are responsible for more auto accidents than any other age group.

The World-Herald asks, "What can WE DO?" The question for this issue was, "What Would OU Students and Faculty Do to Improve Driving Safety?" Here is how some of the students and faculty answered the question when it was put to them.

Laura Dopita said that legislation could be passed making more stringent requirements for driving. She said that possibly persons could be tested on more than one car, perhaps one with a conventional shift, and another with an automatic shift.

Tom Burke thinks that the rat race between car manufacturers in their addiction for super horsepower should be stopped. Jerry Welling adds that safety could be improved if just a little more time is taken for persons to get from one place to another.

Lyle Youngman suggests that drivers keep their cars in good shape and observe all the traffic laws. He feels that motorists should think twice before doing something reckless without giving consideration for other drivers.

Bob Kragh feels that many unnecessary accidents are due to inadequate stoplight system, with many of the lights placed in unnecessary intersections. At the same time, he feels that there are other intersections which need lights.

Hurford Davison thinks that the lack of courtesy is one of the greatest causes of traffic accidents.

On the lighter side of the problem, many students had simple conclusions to the problem. Paul Fesler suggested that cars be taken away from women. He feels that the elimination of women drivers would greatly ease the problem. Beth Vauck simply suggests that people learn how to drive.

Bob Rubenstein suggests that the speed limit be moved back to zero miles per hour and make it illegal for drivers to back up.

Whether the preceding opinions will shed light on what enforcement should be taken to prevent the annual slaughter of 38 thousand Americans, can't be forecast. But if every individual would pledge to himself to drive a little more cautiously, it is inevitable that accidents would be reduced.—Ras.

Alumni Award Certificates to Loyal Runners of 1952

Participants in the "Great Run of '52," Omaha to Crete, will receive their certificates of achievement next week. This was announced by Tom Townsend, Executive Secretary of the Alumni Association. One hundred and fifty certificates will be mailed from the Alumni office.

The certificate, pictured above, proclaims the purpose of the great run of '52. Following the words of "Say the word and we'll run it down to you" a birchbark ticket to the university Homecoming football game was run down to Mayor Fred Kerst of Crete, Neb., inviting him to the game.

Proclamation
The certificate says "Know you—Chiefs, Braves and Squaws of tribes—that being fleet of foot, stout of heart, brave of spirit, and great of esteem, did, on November 7th or 8th, 1952, uphold and enhance the prestige, the glory, and the honored word of his tribe, Omaha University, by participating in "The Great Run of 1952" (102 miles, Omaha to Crete, via Millard, Springfield, Louisville, Weeping Water, Otoe, Syracuse and Roca.)

The run began at 9:10 a. m. Nov. 7 and ended at 5:03 p. m. Nov. 8. Included in the run were a canoe-crossing of the Platte River and an overnight camp at Otoe, Neb.

Actual running time by students, faculty and alumni was 16 hours and six minutes, including the river crossing. Townsend's letter to all runners explains that the delay in presentation with "contrary to popular reports, we waited only to be certain that you had suffered no ill effects."

The Alumni Secretary summed up the "Great Run of 1952" as "whether you ran on concrete, asphalt, gravel, or dirt, or whatever your part in the run, you truly left footprints in the sands of Time."

OU-4-U Dramatizes ROTC, Angels in Two-Program Series

The second of a two-program series on the Air Force ROTC was presented on WOW-TV Wednesday night. The program, the University's "OU-4-U" television show, featured members of the Air Force ROTC and the Angels' Flight.

The ROTC quartet, headed by Bob Stryker, performed. Members of the group were Marty Blacker, Bob Almen, Larry Peters and Stryker. Angel member Ruth Longville was soloist.

Roger Cross and Janet Langhammer discussed the ROTC program at the University.

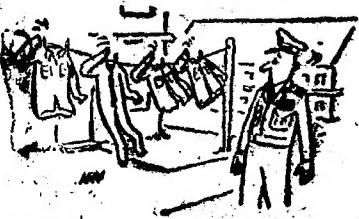

Movie films showing the department in operation at the University and a day spent at Offutt Air Force Base were filmed by the radio and television department.

Shown in the movies were President Milo Bail and Jay B. MacGregor, dean of Student Personnel. Officials at Offutt pictured included General P. M. Montgomery, chief of staff of the Strategic Air Command, and Col. W. L. Gray, deputy commander at Offutt Field.

The program was produced by Bruce Linton, head of the speech department. Harold Winslow, department assistant, and Lyle Nickerson assisted in the production.

Linton announced that Dick Palmquist is program director for the second semester. Winslow will serve as the new assistant in the radio and television area.

Tryouts for radio and television productions will be held next week. They will be in the radio laboratory from 10 a. m. to 2 p. m. Thursday and 9 a. m. to 12 noon Friday.

American Panel Speaks Monday

The University's Panel of Americans will give a program in Lincoln Monday for the Lincoln Junior Chamber of Commerce. Kenneth Greenwood, manager of radio station KFOR and chairman of the Jaycees invited the Panel after hearing them at a program at the Vine Congregational Church in Lincoln.

Speech instructor J. D. Tyson and Dean of Student Personnel Jay B. MacGregor are faculty sponsors for the student panel.

Members of each religious faith are represented on a four-person panel. After brief talks by the members, an open or round-table discussion follows.

Students, Faculty Appear in Quill

Three University students and two faculty members appear in the February, 1953, issue of Quill Magazine.

Press Club officers Bill Beindorf, Frank Schuchart and Joyce Erdkamp are pictured with Dean Jay B. MacGregor and Clifford Ellis, head of the journalism department.

The article announced the formation of the Press Club at the University.

The national magazine is a journalism monthly.

Council Talks About Lounges, Meetings

Discussion of open meetings for the Student Council and hours for student lounging places highlighted the Student Council meeting Wednesday night.

President Ray Hampton said there has been much confusion as a result of "wrong interpretation of the clause in the Constitution of the Council."

Prexy Allows Attendance
The Constitution says that permission of the President of the Council must be granted before attendance at regular meetings will be allowed.

"This does not mean that we censor those who attend," said Hampton. "Rather, it means that we can allow for seating space for those wishing to attend. Should 100 students wish to attend to protest or explain some action, we could not seat them in our regular meeting room," he explained.

Lounge for Students?
The second topic discussed was the possibility of opening either the cafeteria, lounge or Student Center preceding and during the dinner hour for those students who remain for night classes and meetings.

Students in the College of Adult Education have protested that study during the dinner hour in the library is nearly impossible because of "lounging day school students."

Dean Jay B. MacGregor said "opening another place for the day school students would eliminate this situation."

Atom Commission Offers Fellowships to Chem Majors

Omaha University seniors majoring in chemistry, physics or engineering are eligible for graduate fellowships in radiological physics. The fellowships are sponsored by the Atomic Energy Commission.

Seventy-five fellowships may be awarded with fully-accredited graduate study-to be carried out in three locations. The three universities offering the program are the University of Rochester with Brookhaven National Laboratory, University of Washington and the Hanford Works of the AEC, and Vanderbilt University and the Oak Ridge National Laboratory.

The fellowship consists of nine months of course work at the University followed by three months of additional study and field training at the cooperating AEC laboratories.

The program is accredited for graduate level training leading toward an advanced degree. University tuition and required fees will be paid by the Oak Ridge Institute of Nuclear Studies.

Radiological physics is a new and expanding field of science. It is concerned with health physics, radiation monitoring and control, radioisotope measurements and similar activities associated with the use of radioisotopes or the release of nuclear energy.

Basic stipends for fellows is $1,000 per year, with an allowance of $350 if married and $350 for each dependent child.

Two OU Grads Figure in News

Two OU graduates have made the news this week.

The first is Wilfred F. Sykora, who received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Government in 1952. Sykora will be graduated this month from the American Institute for Foreign Trade at Thunderbird Field, Phoenix, Ariz.

Sykora also attended the Universidad de Mexico in Mexico City. At Phoenix, he specialized in Mexico and South America, and took the school's intensive training course in preparation for a career in American business or government abroad.

A former Gateway editor, Lt. Alan Pascale has joined the staff of the Pacific Stars and Stripes. Pascale, who graduated in 1950, will work on the copy desk. The Pacific paper puts out three editions a day.

It is always difficult to work when you have something else on your mind.

Langevin Takes First Internship at KMTV

Senior Class Prexy Appoints Helpers

Senior President Aksel Schmidt appointed committees for Senior Day at the '53 class meeting yesterday noon. The June graduates discussed the class gift for the school. The class has set aside about $100 for the gift.

Baccalaureate and commencement activities were also planned. Schmidt stressed the payment of the senior assessment fee to Cynthia Judd. The fee is $5.50 and includes class gift, dinner, dance, favors and flowers. This fee must be paid by April 1. All June graduates must pay the fee. Seniors graduating in August may pay the special assessment if they wish to participate in the activities.

The Business Office will collect the $10 fee for diploma, cap and gown.

Gary Anderson, chairman of the banquet committee, announced that the banquet will be continental style at the Rome Hotel. Several suggestions for the theme were reported by the committee.

The dance will follow the banquet. Eddy Haddad will play for the 9 p. m. to midnight affair May 28. Donna Edstrand is chairman of the dance committee.

Don Fitch, vice-president of the Seniors, is over-all chairman for the Senior activities.

Women to Compete With Duchesne Team

Volleyball enthusiasts in the women's physical education department will play the Duchesne volleyball team at 4:30 p. m. Feb. 17 in the West Quonset.

The OU team will hold three practice games which will be scheduled on the bulletin-board in the women's physical education hut.

Danny Langevin will be the first KMTV student intern in a new cooperative program between the TV station and Omaha University. Clifford Ellis, head of the Journalism department, and Owen Saddler, general manager of KMTV, announced the internship this week.

Langevin will work during the spring semester with Floyd Kalber, KMTV news director, writing and editing newscasts. He will be a regular employee of the station and will also earn three college credits. He will work 30 hours a week during his internship. Langevin is photo editor of the 1953 Tomahawk.

Under this new internship program, three students will be chosen annually for the job. The next internship will begin in June. Only upperclassmen in the Journalism field will be considered for the internship.

The University is expanding its program in such internships. Other "practical experience" jobs are also offered in the retailing and accounting fields.

University to Hold Vocations Seminars

Indians To Encounter Doane, S. D. Wesleyan

Saturday's Game To Be First Meet

By Chuck Rice

After dropping a heart-breaking game to the Creighton Blue Jays, the OU cagers are getting ready for the two weekend games.

Monday the Indians will travel to Crete, Nebr., where they will tackle the Doane College Tigers on their maples. On Saturday the Indians will return to play host to South Dakota Wesleyan in the OU Fieldhouse.

The OU hoopsters copped both of last year's games against the Doane Tigers, downing them 53-46 in the first encounter and taking the rematch 63-49.

The Tigers have only four returning lettermen from last year's squad, which finished the season with a five won, 14 lost record. Returning veterans are Jerry Troester, Larry Tesar, Don Pizar, all seniors, and Sophomore Pete Eddy, Omaha North grad.

Contest First Meeting

The Aub Givens-tutored crew will be strengthened by the addition of 6-foot 4-inch Clarence Cook, McCook transfer, who becomes eligible for NCC play the second semester.

In the scoring column, the Tigers are led by 6-foot 5-inch center Pizar and 6-foot guard Troester.

Saturday's contest will be the first meeting between OU and South Dakota Wesleyan of Mitchell, So. Dak.

The Tigers, coached by Bob McArdle, are led by Stu Landersman, who has scored 211 points in 11 games so far this season. Last season the Wesleyan opponents had trouble holding the 6-foot 5-inch center to less than thirty points per game.

Claussen High Point Man

So far this season the Tigers have a four won, four lost record in the South Dakota Intercollegiate league.

It still looks like a nip and tuck battle between Don Claussen and Bob Mackie for team scoring honors this season.

However, two high scoring games against Washburn and Creighton have enabled Claussen to forge into the lead with 242 points to Mackie's close second of 233 points.

Bob Rose and Lee Nelson hold down the third and fourth spots, respectively, on the season scoring slate.

With the loss to the Hilltoppers last Monday night, the OU season record stands at nine wins, six losses.

After the two coming contests, the Indians will be looking forward to the rematch game with the Creighton Blue Jays, Saturday, Feb. 14.

Gorr Asks Entries of Mural Volleyball

Entries for singles and doubles in intramural table tennis and badminton must be in by Feb. 13, either in the office of Ernie Gorr or in the Athletic Director's office.

Play will begin on Feb. 17 in the Fieldhouse, and all teams are urged not to forfeit after once entered.

Entries for volleyball must be in the same offices Feb. 12, at 5 p. m., and play will begin on Feb. 16. All teams must have a roster of players in before game time.

Alpha Xi's Strengthen Hold on Bowling Title

Alpha Xi Delta A team swept three games from Sigma Kappa Monday and strengthened their hold on first place. Sigma Kappa also took all three games from ISA and managed to hold on to their second place position.

The Chi O Owls dropped two out of three to Chi Omega, giving them only a one point hold on third place.

The ninth place NISA pulled a big upset by rolling to three straight victories over sixth place Gamma Mu. The Alpha Xi B team took two out of three from Zeta Tau Alpha.

Track Practice 'Continues'

Coach Ernie Gorr is pleased with the track candidates who have checked out equipment and are now in training. He indicated that any men who have failed to begin training are welcome to start now that the pressure of exams is off. Equipment can be checked out in the afternoons between two and three o'clock.

"We have a training program that will fit the needs of a boy's individual class schedule. Track men can be seen training throughout the day in the Fieldhouse as their time allows."

He further stated that the training program now in progress will continue for better than a month. It is posted on the bulletin board where it will be available any time during the day. The workout includes warm up exercises and muscle building as they are needed by the separate events.

The first meet of the indoor season will be in the Fieldhouse Thursday, Mar. 12. It is tentatively scheduled to be a triangular affair, as last year, between Wayne, Nebraska Wesleyan and Omaha University. The following Tuesday, there will be a dual meet at night slating the Indians against the Doane Tigers. It will also be in the Fieldhouse.

Another home triangular will be held Mar. 27 between South Dakota University, Iowa State Teachers of Cedar Falls and OU.

Enthusiasts Hope For Mat Sport

The wrestlers are twisting the arm of Athletic Director Virgil Yelkin, and he's yelling "uncle."

Since early last year, a group of former OU wrestlers and a larger group of new students, who are interested in wrestling, have made plans about bringing the mat sport back to the University.

These hustling bonebenders, who are determined to get a team, have passed out a list with the signatures of students who want wrestling and a list of signatures of boys interested in wrestling.

The list of wrestlers was surprisingly large, and many outstanding wrestlers' names appeared. Bob Grau, Steve Marinovich, Wayne Larson, Ronnie Abboud, Joe Radica and Sam Anzalone are just a few of the outstanding grapplers who are eager to start cracking bones.

Yelkin stated that he would bring up the problem of wrestling at the next board meeting, but until that time, the wrestlers will still have to bring up strong arguments for wrestling at the University of Omaha.

From the Sports Desk . . .

As you see, this semester the Gateway is being published once a week with eight pages. Sports is being given one-fourth of the space as before when the paper was published twice a week. We realize that much of the news will seem to be "old stuff," but we'll do our best to make it as interesting as possible.

To off-set the disadvantage of having to report "cold news," we'll try to make these pages more lively and interesting. We believe in writing stories colorfully, but not to extent. We hope never to be guilty of forcing such abuses as "spikes on a picket fence" upon you. Our style will be simple and straightforward.

According to their news value, we'll have better sports coverage

Mural Tourney At Fieldhouse

Playoffs in the Intramural basketball league will be held on the afternoons of Feb. 17, 18 and 19 in the Fieldhouse. There will be three divisions of teams in the tournament.

The championship bracket will contain the four winners of the four leagues. The ROTC and Pawnees already have qualified. Pi K A will enter the top division if they can defeat the PE Majors. Their game, which was postponed earlier, will be played next Monday at 3 o'clock. Blackhaws must down Delta Sig to place in the winners' tourney. These two teams will play next Monday at 2 p. m.

The second bracket is composed of the four teams which finish second in their respective leagues. Sigma Phi Epsilon and Theta Chi are teams in this group so far.

The Sioux and ISA teams have been placed in the third division. They finished third in their leagues.

Coach to Finish B. A. Degree Here

Lloyd Cardwell, football coach, is on a one-semester leave of absence to complete work on his Bachelor of Arts degree. The leave was effective when the second semester started.

Coach Cardwell is currently taking 17 hours of work at OU. Lack of a degree has prevented the coach from teaching physical education classes. He is enrolled in the classes as well as preparing plans for spring football practice.

He will transfer credits to the University of Nebraska, from which he will be graduated this June.

Coach Cardwell started to take work toward his degree shortly after taking over at OU in 1947 but dropped studies when his son was stricken with polio.

OUWI Schedules Basketball Tourney

Omaha University women's intramural members finished the badminton tournament just in time to start the basketball season.

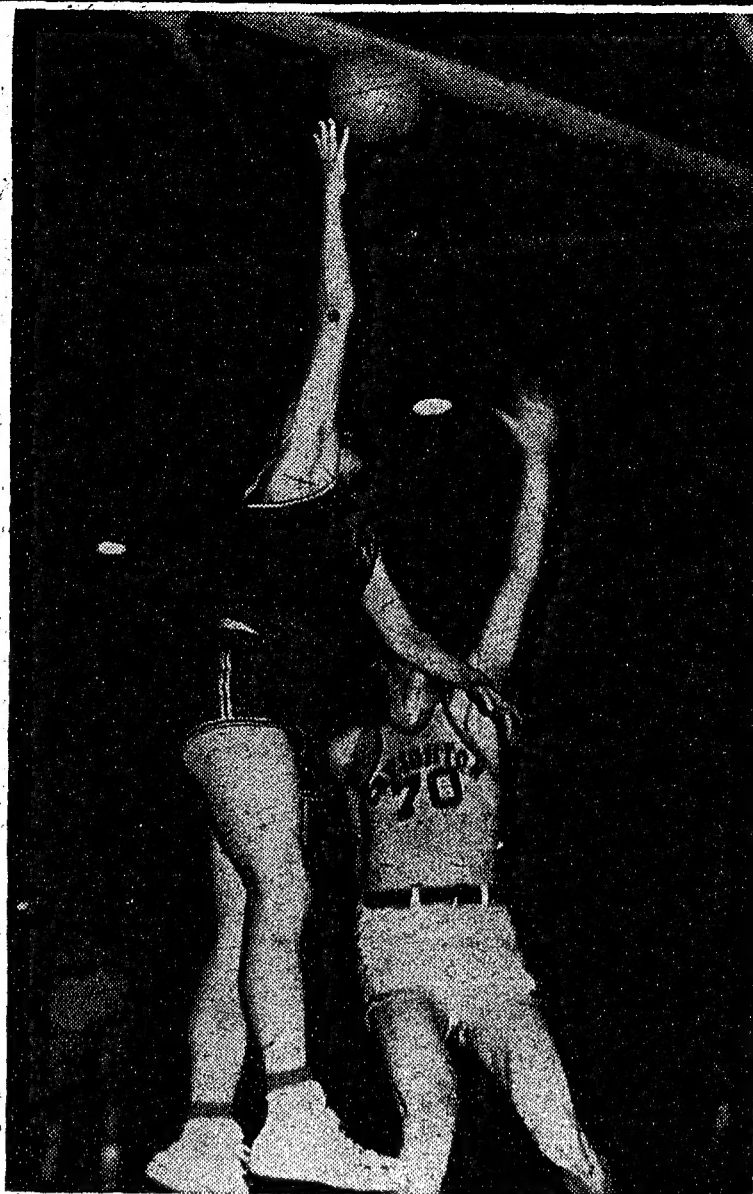

Nancy Land won the badminton singles division from Sally Robinson. Jo Thorson and Marilyn Rogers defeated Janet Hanson and Honor Thorson for the doubles championship.

Marilyn Rogers, chairman of the basketball tournament, announced that the first basketball game would be played in the women's physical education hut at 4:30 p. m. Wednesday, Feb. 18.

Practice games are scheduled for this week and next. Players are urged to attend at least one practice game. Tournament games will be played on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday afternoons at 4:30.

Rifle Club Meets

The Women's Rifle Club will have their picture taken for the Tomahawk today at noon in the Fieldhouse. All members are required to attend.

Jays Slip Tie in Last Seconds to Win, 56-54

Indian 'Underdogs' Set Blistering Pace

So close, and yet so far. The University of Omaha's basketball team fell seconds short of scoring the first victory in history over a powerful Creighton five.

With five seconds left in the last quarter, Eddie Cole dribbled to the left of the OU basket, jumped into the air, and sank a one-handed shot—and the hearts of the Omaha fans and team sank with it.

The Monday night crowd of 3,950, at Creighton's gym, were full of mixed emotions, but when the screaming and shouting were over, the scoreboard still read, Creighton 56, OU 54.

With the score knotted at 54 apiece, Bob Mackie engineered a stall. The stall seemed to be working beautifully. One of the Indians would hold the ball close to center court, dribbling carefully. At one time Mackie alone held the ball with his dribbling tactics for one minute. Then the break that the Indians wanted came. With 24 seconds left in the game, Ralph Pettit was fouled. The crowd waited as Pettit stepped to the free throw line. The first shot hit the rim and bounced away. The second shot did the same, and the mad rush was on once again.

Big Elton Tuttle grabbed the rebound, and the Bluejays came down the court. They held the ball without shooting until Cole made his fatal shot with five seconds left.

The Indians went into the game cast as lambs, but they fought like lions. A stranger in the crowd would never have known that OU was a heavy underdog. They made Creighton pay their way, and the Bluejays were dripping sweat trying to keep up with the blistering pace that the Indians were setting.

Don Claussen was the high scorer for the Indians, but no one man alone deserved credit for leading the team. Fred Shinrock was grabbing valuable rebounds, Bob Moscrey was stealing the ball at the right time, Lee Nelson was guarding Tuttle like his life depended on it, and Bob Mackie and Bob Rose were constantly thorns in Creighton's side.

Cole and Tuttle were the big playmakers for the Creighton five, and they deserve a big share of the credit for victory. Tuttle was deadly on rebounds and hook shots, and Cole was a deadeye at long range. Giants like Rich Yost and Bill Heyden were held at bay by the hustling Indians.

There will be a rematch Feb. 14.

Officiating Pleases Coach Virg Yelkin

Coach Virgil Yelkin stated that he was pleased with the officiating in the OU-Creighton game. Both referees, Gordon Flick and Herman Rohrig, will be back for the rematch Feb. 14.

The Fieldhouse south side bleachers will be reserved. The rest of the seats will be first come, first serve, but Creighton rooters are expected to sit in section E on the north side, and in back of the west basket.

A crowd of more than 4,000 is expected to see the last game of the season between the rival schools.

Papooses Tromp Jay Freshmen

Omaha U's Papoose basketball team opened the Indians' "successful" invasion of Creighton by easily handling the Jay freshmen, 69 to 52.

Led by Bill Petrik and Bill Graddy, the Indians swept to a 17 to 6 first quarter lead, and held onto a 24 to 21 margin at halftime. The Indians widened their advantage late in the third period to lead, 47-32, going into the final quarter.

Petrik, who had earned one of his first starting berths, sparkled on the fast break and topped OU scorers with 15 markers. Graddy was close behind with 12, while Howard Baker hit 10. Baker would have been much higher in the scoring column, but he missed 12 or 14 free throws.

Tony Roth, who fouled out in the final quarter, was again the Papoose "field general" and hit seven points.

The Indian defense shackled Creighton's tall (6-7) center, Chuck Shortley. Shortley never denied the scoring column. Clarence Jones topped the Jays with 13 points.

The Indians were in complete control during the first two quarters, as they dominated both boards and seemed to bewilder the Jays with their fast break. Coach Darrell Mudra swept the bench in the fourth period as the Indians coasted home.

OU WINS 2, LOSES 2 IN RECENT ENCOUNTERS

Indians Beat Northern 59-53, Wayne 70-61;
Claussen, Mackie High Scorers in Contests

By Dave Langevin

Omaha eagles suffered their initial home defeat last Saturday night, 67-59, at the hands of Washburn University of Topeka. It was the second time Washburn had beaten the Indians, who had won eight in a row at home.

The Ichabods displayed a fast passing team and had a well-rounded scoring attack. Four of their starters tallied 10 or more points. Hauck, a guard, who excelled in side shots, led the team with 18 pointers. Brehm had 13, and Rubin and Yearsley each hit 10.

OU Rallies

Don Claussen and Bob Mackie provided the scoring punch for Omaha. Claussen potted 23 and Mackie added 21. Center Lee Nelson was held to three free throws and Fred Shinrock made only one. Neither was able to score a field goal.

Omaha rallied late in the first half and trailed by only 31-28 at halftime. Washburn built up a commanding lead in the third quarter and fought off an Indian surge in the final frame.

Kansas State Teachers of Emporia defeated Omaha, 75-61 on Jan. 29 in Emporia. It was an avenging win for the Kansans who had dropped an earlier 72-57 contest to the Indians.

Claussen Leads

Bill Robinson with 20 points, and Larry Eudaley, with 14, paced the victors. Emporia had the services of three regulars who did not play in the previous contest.

Big Don Claussen again led Omaha with 26 points. Bob Rose enjoyed one of his better nights, hitting 16. Firey Bob Mackie was held to six counters, and scoring attempts of Shinrock and Nelson were thwarted by the Emporia defense.

OU Wins Eighth Straight

The Indians won their eighth straight home game on Jan. 21, tripping Northern State Teachers College, 58-53. The two scoring leaders of the team, Claussen and Mackie, paced the Indians with 19 and 14 points, respectively.

Little Mo Mack tallied 17 for Northern; Dick Gernert hit 14. Gernert is the highly-publicized rookie first baseman of the Boston Red Sox. He is playing basketball to keep in good physical condition during the winter months.

OU Downs Wayne

Omaha downed Wayne Teachers of Wayne, Neb., on Jan. 19 by 70-61. It was the Indians second conquest of the Tigers this season, and it was their third win in four games against teams from the Nebraska College Conference.

A scoring duel between Claussen of Omaha and Don Tietgen of Wayne featured the contest. Claussen made 11 field goals and seven free throws for 29 points, and Tietgen made 25 on 12 field goals and one free toss. Rose and Mackie supported Claussen with 14 and 13 points, respectively.

Indians Migrate Monday

The game was close up to the closing minutes and the Indians were forced to spurt for the winning margin.

Omaha has only two more games with teams from the NCC. Both are against Doane College of Crete. The first game is next Monday in Crete. This is the second migration day for Indian students. Omaha must win both games for they have to have a good record to qualify for the NAIA Tournament. They will have to play off with the three top teams in the NCC and win to enter the tourney.

Indian Natives Speak Tonight at Youth Club

University students have been invited to hear two Creighton University students speak on "India Today."

The students, Joseph and Marie Pereira, are natives of India and will speak at the Cosmopolitan Friendship Club meeting at the YWCA tonight at 8.

The Club is composed of foreign students, newly arrived Americans and young adults of the Omaha area.

Charles E. Wilson, Secretary of Defense: "Engineers are trained to have a great respect for truth and facts. You don't hunch an engineering problem."

Oakland, Cal.—A police car—with a policeman inside—became a hot-rod in the strictest sense of the word recently, when a wind-storm threw a broken power-line carrying 2,300 volts across the automobile. The officer, Charles Woodworth, huddled on a cushion and radioed for help. A power company emergency crew was sent to cut the line.

IF YOU CAN WIN THESE WINGS YOU CAN EARN OVER $5,000 A YEAR AFTER GRADUATION

Important facts about the opportunities for YOU as a Commissioned Officer—Pilot or Aircraft Observer—in the United States Air Force

Must I be a college graduate to be a Pilot?

No. But you must have completed a minimum of 60 semester hours or 90 quarter hours toward a degree. In addition, under the new Aviation Cadet Pilot training program, you must be between the ages of 19 and 26½ years, unmarried, and in good physical condition—with high requirements for eyes, ears, heart and teeth.

How long before I get my commission?

60 calendar weeks. You will receive the finest aviation training in the world—training that not only equips you to fly modern military aircraft but prepares you for executive and administrative work as well. At the completion of your training, you will have acquired a commission as a 2nd Lieutenant and won the coveted silver wings of the United States Air Force.

Where do I take my training?

Pre-flight training will be at Lackland Air Force Base, San Antonio, Texas. Primary, basic and advanced training will be taken at any one of the many Air Force bases located throughout the South and Southwest.

What happens if I flunk the training course?

Every effort is made to help students whose progress is unsatisfactory. You can expect extra instructions and whatever individual attention you may require. However, if you fail to complete the course as an Aviation Cadet, you will be required to serve a two-year enlistment to fulfill the minimum requirement under Selective Service laws.

What pay do I get as an Aviation Cadet? And after?

As an Aviation Cadet you draw $109.20 a month pay. In addition, you get summer and winter uniforms, flight clothes, equipment, food, housing, medical and dental care and insurance . . . all free. After you are commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant you will be earning $5,800.00 a year—with unlimited opportunities for advancement.

Are all Aviation Cadets trained to be Pilots?

No. You can choose between becoming a Pilot or an Aircraft Observer. Men who choose the latter will become commissioned officers in Navigation, Bombardment, Radar Operation, or Aircraft Performance Engineering.

Do Aircraft Observers get flying training, too?

Yes. Aircraft Observer Cadets receive approximately 200 hours of "in the air" instruction. The primary phase of Aircraft Observer training is the same for all branches (navigation, bombardment, etc.). The basic and advanced phase of training varies, depending on the specific course you wish to pursue.

What kind of ships will I fly?

You will fly jets. The Pilot Cadet takes his first instructions in a light, civilian-type plane of approximately 100 horsepower; then graduates to the 600 horsepower T-6 "Texan" before receiving transition training in jets. You then advance gradually until you are flying such famous first-line aircraft as F-86 Sabre, F-49 Scorpion, B-47 Stratojet, B-50 Superfortress. Observer Cadets take flight instructions in the C-47 Dakota, the T-29 Convair, and the TB-Superfortress before advancing to first-line aircraft such as the F-89 Scorpion, B-47 Stratojet or TB-50 Superfortress.

Will my commission be in the Regular Air Force or Reserve?

Aviation Cadet graduates, both Pilots and Aircraft Observers get Reserve commissions as 2nd Lieutenants. Some outstanding graduates in both programs will be offered Regular commissions.

How long must I remain in Service?

After graduation as an Aviation Cadet, you are tendered an indefinite appointment in the United States Air Force Reserve and are called to active duty with the United States Air Force for a period of three years.

What recreation and leisure time will I have as a Cadet?

Discipline will be rigid—especially for the first few weeks. However, it is not all work. You'll find swimming pools, handball courts, movies and other forms of recreation on the post. After your first 4 months, your commandant may allow you to apply for overnight passes.

Where will I be stationed when I get my commission?

You may be stationed anywhere in the world . . . Hawaii, Far East, Europe, Puerto Rico, elsewhere. During your tour of duty, you will be in close touch with the latest developments in new flying techniques. You will continue to build up your flying experience and later, should have no difficulty securing a CAA commercial pilot rating.

Your future is assured if you can qualify! Here's what to do:

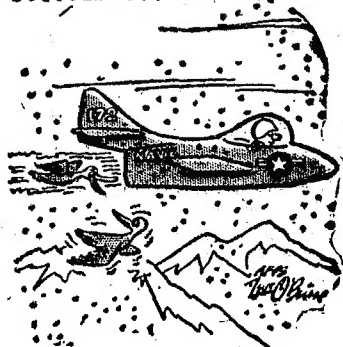

- 1 Take a transcript of your college credits and a copy of your birth certificate to your nearest Air Force Base or Recruiting Station. Fill out the application they give you.
- 2 If application is accepted, the Air Force will arrange for you to take a physical examination at government expense.
- 3 Next, you will be given a written and manual aptitude test.
- 4 If you pass your physical and other tests, you will be scheduled for an Aviation Cadet training class. The Selective Service Act allows you a four-month deferment while waiting class assignment.

Success Story

Former Society Editor Boosts Sales of Junior Sports Styles

A former Gateway Society Editor is now telling sales people all over the United States the fashion trends of Junior Age. Charlotte Weinberg, 1952 graduate of the University, is fashion coordinator for Junior Age, Inc., of the junior sports fashions.

As part of her job, Charlotte travels to the department stores in many cities, among them Chicago, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh, Minneapolis, Cleveland and Des Moines. She sets up fashion shows at the stores carrying Junior Age sports clothes. Before each show, Charlotte briefs the sales personnel on the trends of the Junior Age buyer including what they like and what they dislike in their casual clothes.

Junior Age, Inc., main offices are in Milwaukee, Wis., and Charlotte spends most of the year discussing coming fashion apparel, offering her suggestions to the designer, before the final models are made.

Although she has been with Junior Age for about seven months Charlotte is pretty much her own boss. One of the reasons for this is that this job was created for Charlotte. A Junior Age, Inc., executive spotted her, while she was conducting her first fashion show at an Omaha department store last spring. Charlotte was offered the position, and she left for Milwaukee immediately following her graduation.

Shows Differ Charlotte learned the basic do's and don'ts of the fashion show business quickly. "The easterners want a more sophisticated patter for the show," commented Charlotte. "For midwesterners, easy informality sets the pace for the fashion presentation."

In addition to writing the fashion show script, Charlotte also has written press releases about the designers of Junior Age. She has prepared a small booklet of instructions which she sends ahead to the next city she will visit.

"I prefer high school girls or college women for my models," said Charlotte. "Professional models do not display the Junior Age fashions in their proper perspective."

Cline Candidate

At their meeting in the Student Center, Tuesday evening Sigma Kappa elected Virginia Cline as their candidate for Pi Kappa Alpha Outstanding Sorority Girl.

Other business which was discussed were plans for activation of new pledges on Feb. 21. This event will take place at the Blackstone Hotel. Initiation will be in the afternoon with a banquet to follow in the evening.

Guests for the activation will include the Province President and members of the alumni organization.

The members also discussed the new policy of open bidding at the University.

Fashion Conscious Women Highlight Spring Styles With Array of Suits

With the snow still upon the ground, it may seem a bit early to be discussing spring fashions. But look into the windows of any department store and you'll see that the notions of spring have been here quite awhile.

What will the fashion plate of this spring be wearing? Few designers can be sure yet of the dress styles, but you'll find a good indication of spring in the suits. April 5 is Easter Sunday, and on that day you will see not only the new Easter bonnets, but the suits that Miss and Mrs. America will be wearing this year.

The trend in suits in the last few years has been in materials like gabardine and wool, but this year we find new materials coming into their own. They are orlon, flannel and worsted jersey, with the still-popular tweed tagging along.

And what is the suit of '53 going to be like? Well, it can be either V-necked or buttoned close to the neckline. With this arrangement, we can use a gay bunch of artificial flowers or a brightly colored scarf at the neck. Costume jewelry also will accent the necklines of spring suits.

Skirts on this year's suits will be pencil slim, with jackets either box style or close fitting. Either of these types may be found with the white detachable collar and cuffs. This makes them suitable for that crisp office or school look and for a neat, feminine date outfit.

Now that we know the style of this year's suits, what color will the spring ensembles be? Naturally, navy still will hold its own with fashion-conscious women, but we will see more of gray, beige, brown and gold in the fashion parade this year.

So for an ensemble that will see you well-dressed through spring, summer and fall, get yourself a suit.

University-Air Force Tieup Marks Success

Be careful the way you address that male student sitting next to you in your class! He may be a colonel. The reason he is sitting next to you is that he is enrolled in "Operation Bootstrap" program at OU.

The "Operation" is now two years old and the program, adopted by the Adult Education division of the University, has made remarkable progress.

The University now ranks fifth in the nation in the number of men attending classes under Air Force sanction.

According to Dr. Joseph Ray, assistant chief of the Air Force information and education branch at Washington, D. C., the school is the first to assign an adult counselor, Roy W. Nolte, to aid airmen in setting up an academic program.

Attend on Base

The men from Offutt Air Base may attend class on campus or at the base. Over 200 students began the second quarterly session at the base recently.

Dr. Ray, in an address to Offutt personnel at a recent convocation, stated that "through the cooperation of the university—and greatly aided by Uncle Sam—it is almost easier for an Air Force man to attend Omaha University than it is for a civilian student."

Uncle Sam Pays

One reason is that Uncle Sam picks up the check for three-fourths the cost, and another is the fact that Offutt officials recognize the need for college trained men and women in the Air Force program.

To illustrate this point, Nolte tells the story of one major who is recruiting the non-college trained men in his command in the program. He adds that several other officers have done the same with excellent results.

The men at Offutt are working against a time deadline. They realize that in a few days they may find themselves in Alaska, and may not return to Omaha.

Year Round Program

This is the main reason for the year-round schooling program. Most of the classes at the base are on an accelerated schedule. This gives the men an opportunity to take the same course a regular "civie" student at OU might take, but in a shorter period of time.

Most of the classes are in the two-night a week for eight weeks, or three-nights a week for five weeks sessions. The students are offered a wide selection of courses. They may apply for either of two degrees after completion of the program: A Bachelor of Science with a major in military science; or a Bachelor of General Education degree.

There is little question to the success of the program, and Nolte adds that "they're asking for Saturday classes now."

Minister: Would you care to join us in the new missionary movement?

Readers Hear 'Good News' From Librarian

Good news has come to library students who like to browse. When the new OU library is constructed, readers will find the library operated with a minimum of red tape, and according to the latest library operations.

Currently in the OU library, the books are separated from the readers. Students have to go through the formality of making out a slip for a certain book, with a 50-50 chance that after the book is secured, it isn't the one he wants.

But with the new system, all the reader has to do is to walk in and select a book of his choice off the shelf.

According to Miss Ellen Lord, university librarian, the shelves will be arranged "invitingly." And books "will be so easy to get to, we hope to have students stumbling over books."

Another tentative feature will be the library's modular construction. This means that the library won't depend on permanent, inside partitions for support. Movable book shelves will provide the partitions.

This is a big advantage over older library setups where the book stacks are cemented in one piece, and have to stay where they are put for posterity.

"With the new building, the shelves will be more flexible. We can move the shelves around any place. So we can re-arrange the floor plan at any time to suit our needs," says Miss Lord.

The Library Planning Committee, headed by Dr. Robert Harper, English professor, has made tentative plans calling for a two-story building.

The building would be located north and west of the main building. Present plans call for a Georgian-type design pattern, conforming to other campus architectural styles. Tentative construction of the building is set for the fall of 1954.

Poll Reveals Student Pessimism to Korea

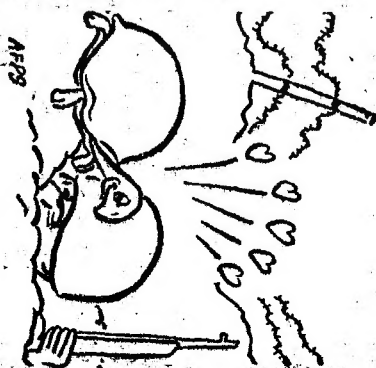

In a recent national poll of student opinion, taken by the Associated Collegiate Press at the University of Minnesota, it was revealed that college students have little hope of either a speedy end to the Korean war or of peace between Russia and the United States.

Students across the nation were asked: "Do you think the Korean war will be over within six months?" The results showed that only five percent answered yes, and 82 percent answered no, with 13 percent having no opinion.

Students also were asked: "How do you feel about chances for a peaceful settlement of differences between Russia and the United States? Three percent felt the chances were good, 27 percent said the chances are fair, and 54 percent said chances are poor, and 12 percent saw no chance. Four percent had no opinion.

A student opinion poll was taken one year ago on the same question. At that time, only 45 percent of those interviewed said that the chances were poor.

Most of the students lay both the Korean war and cold war at Russia's doorstep, and those who feel that there is still a chance for peace, tend to pin their hopes on "a revolution in the Soviet Union and its satellites, and United States patience and diplomacy."

Marines to Offer Officer Training

Men interested in the Marine Corps program are being offered an opportunity to sign up for officer training. The Corp's first 1953 Officer Candidate Course will begin March 12.

Young college graduates who successfully complete the ten-week course will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the Marine Corps Reserve, at the Marine Corps School, Quantico, Va.

College graduates and seniors scheduled to graduate by March 1 are eligible for enrollment in this course. Upon successful completion of the ten weeks training, the new officers will attend the five months special basic course which is required of all newly-commissioned Marine officers.

The announcement states that a majority of new officers are given the opportunity to attend specialist schools for additional training in such subjects as Communications, Supply, Artillery, Naval Gunfire, Ordnance, Tank, Motor Transport and Others.

All men will serve on active duty for two years. The officer training in such subjects as Commanded and single men.

Interested men should contact the nearest Marine Corps Recruiting Station.

Student Songsters Publicize School

Did you know that Omaha U. has two students singing commercials to publicize the school in Iowa and Nebraska towns?

The two students are Bob Cahill, tenor, and Marian Tyndale, soprano. They are the official "songsters" for the Omaha Chamber of Commerce "Tribe of Yessir" trips.

The tribe makes monthly visits to the communities surrounding the Omaha area spreading friendship and goodfellowship. The purpose of the organization is to spread the philosophy of "Yes-sir"—a sound, healthy business attitude.

Timely Decorations . . .

The administration building as well as the Student Center have added decorations to their coloring theme.

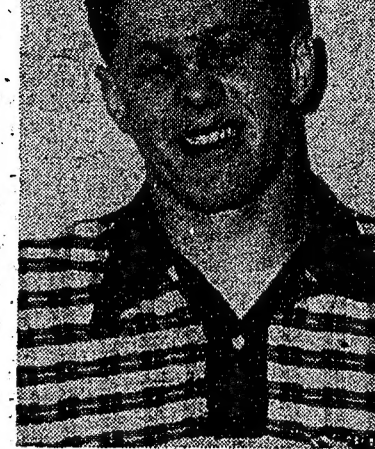

Along the halls, white strips of paper were pasted on lockers warning students that they will be evicted if they do not pay the rent on their lockers.

The Student Center is being decorated in red and white Valentine colors.

There must be a motive behind organizations nominating candidates for the forthcoming "Rose of Delta Sig" dance. Or is it just a coincidence that Mary ROSE Richardson and Dorothy SEIG are candidates for the title.

Personality of the Week Mr. President . . .

Want to drive a car minus the sticker and brakes? Aksel Schmidt, president of the senior class, says this can be accomplished by taking a course in Criminology. If the skeptic needs proof he need only examine Ak's car, fondly called "The Gas Chamber," which its owner says has no sticker, no brakes, no heater, and averages two flat tires a week.

Aksel . . . Senior class leader.

Aksel doesn't plan to make a career of evading the law, however. Three years of college football, basketball and baseball has convinced Schmidt that his aim in life is to "be a success in coaching, and perhaps play professional football if I ever get the chance." Since giving "chalk talks" on "Hang Me" to fifth graders at Minne Lusa School, Aksel has decided he would prefer to coach in a high school or college.

Navy Reserve

Before taking up coaching however, Schmidt is due to serve Uncle Sam for a term. A Navy reservist, Aks has taken vacation cruises in Chicago, New York, Rhode Island, Washington, Pennsylvania and other New England states. The grand tour of 21 months active duty is coming up this summer.

After graduating from North High in 1947, and while attending OU, Aksel has held a variety of jobs including bookkeeper, salesman, gas station attendant, practice teacher, semi-pro baseball player and freshman string coach at North. His latest endeavor in the business world is a position in a mortuary. All this has helped to develop Ak's healthy appetite which his parents keep at bay with "lots of steaks, pork chop, and potatoes and gravy," his favorite dishes. On drinks, Schmidt said that "I confine my liquids to milk 'on Sundays.'"

Pigskin Star

This physical education major recalls his most thrilling moment at the Homecoming game in 1950. OU was underdog in the game against Wayne University of Detroit, when Aks ran for a 63-yard touchdown on the first play of the game.

An active member of Pi Kappa Alpha, Aksel believes in fraternity life. He was the fraternity's candidate for the senior presidential office, and has held office in the organization as Sergeant-at-Arms.

An active supporter of OU, Aksel is proud to represent the 1953 senior class "because of the many opportunities presented to me during my four years, and the friendly atmosphere on campus."—Pat.

Letters to The Editor

Dear Editor:

My sympathies go out to those students who voice complaints about the food in the cafeteria. Yet, their very gripes about the food indicate a fortunate sensitivity to good and bad food—they must be very well fed at home if they think the cafeteria's food isn't up to par.

May I suggest that such students buy a bowl of soup? It is hot, cheap, filling, and can be "doctored up," if necessary, with free salt and pepper.

A Student.

(Letters-to-the-Editor are welcomed by the Gateway if the criticism is constructive or the praise worthy. We will publish all letters if the identity of the writer is known.)
